COLLEGEDALE, TENNESSEE, MARCH, 1972

NUMBER 1

Open House for Home Ec

Front view of the new Home Economics Building.

A view of the lobby of the as yet unnamed beautiful new home economics building.

Open house for the new $260,000 home economics center at SMC is set for April 10 to 13. The total cost includes equipment and furnishings.

Special guests expected to be on campus at that time are academy seniors visiting for College Days, Tennessee home economics administrators, and the SMC Board of Trustees.

Located on the site of the former Collegedale Academy building, the home economics center is a two-story edifice of brick, partly surrounded by a low stone wall, and set off by a modern entryway, featuring a diamond-shaped tapered column.

In fact, modern is the word as far as interior decor of the center is concerned, from the bright reds, purples and greens in the color scheme to the scientifically designed foods preparation laboratory and modern equipment.

The home economics center has not yet been officially named. Several suggestions for names are being reviewed by the SMC Board of Trustees, which has the final decision in the matter.

A special open house will be held at the home economics center for SMC graduates and guests at the alumni homecoming next fall, Mrs. Cushman, chairman of the department, announced, then hastily added that alumni are invited to visit the home economics center any time.

SMC Enrolls 1312

Classes began Jan. 12 for the second semester with a record second semester enrollment of 1312.

First semester enrollment was 1414, indicating that the school took its customary enrollment drop between semesters. Thirty of those who dropped at the end of the first semester were seniors who had completed graduation requirements.

Of the total registered for second semester, 1284 are students studying on the Collegedale campus, and 28 are on the Orlando campus.

New Shop to Open

A new store, The Campus Shop, will open at the College Plaza near the end of April, according to Mrs. Warren Hammond, who will manage it. She is currently employed by the Mercantile.

The Campus Shop will occupy the vacant space left by the Mercantile which will be relocated in the old market building.

The new store will be geared to giving better service to students than the Mercantile is able to supply. No appliances or hardware merchandise will be sold, but there will be a larger supply of source books for every department.

A wide selection of paperbacks and hard-bound books will also be sold.

The store will also carry Hallmark greeting cards, while the Mercantile will continue their American Greetings.

Both ladies' and men's clothing will be sold.

Gift items, luggage, cameras and film, and various other student needs will also be stocked.

The National Association of College Services does not recommend a store of this type to be designed for self-service unless the college has an enrollment of 4,000. So it appears that it will continue to be a full service Campus Shop for some time.

Those Who Walked These Halls

Alumni in the News Modern Language Dept. Plans Three Summer Tours

Des Cummings, '65, has returned to the Collegedale area to serve as assistant pastor of the Collegedale church and also as campus chaplain for SMC. His wife is the former Mary Lou Parker, '65. Des is the son of the president of the Georgia-Cumberland Conference.

Barbara J. Beavers, '60, a captain in the air force, has been assigned as a nurse coordinator with Detachment 609 of the USAF Recruiting Group. She previously served at Elmendorf Air Force Base in Alaska.

Three 22-day language study tours of Europe, designed to accommodate a total of 60 people and to be sponsored by the Language Department of SMC, is now in the planning stage. The tours will cover the Spanish, French, and German language areas.

Leaving May 10, 1972 from New York, the 60 tourists will travel to Frankfurt, Germany. There the group will split into three sections: those wishing to study Spanish will go to Spain; those studying French will travel directly to France; and those studying German will remain in Germany. Prior knowledge of any particular language is not required.

Two hours of college credit (or audit) in any language area is possible for anyone desiring such, subject to prior registration.

The German study tour will cost $636 per person, the Spanish study tour will cost $769 per person, and the French one, $725.

The price for each tour will cover the expenses of the round trip flight, bus fares, over-night lodging, and one meal a day, a continental breakfast.

The groups will meet back in Frankfurt, Germany, for the return flight to New York. Arrival date in New York will be June 1.

Checks to cover the expense of the tours should be made out to Southern Missionary College and sent to the Modern Language Department.

Reservations for the tour must be made by March 15 with a down payment of $50.00. For further details, interested persons may contact:

DEATH

Mrs. Rusha Hughes, the widow of Dr. O. G. Hughes, celebrated her 100th birthday Nov. 21, 1971. Mrs. Hughes now lives in Walland, Tenn. Her husband was the first physician for the college after it was moved to the present campus from Graysville, Tenn.

For 20 years Dr. Hughes carried on his practice as a rural doctor in and around the Ooltewah area, and then moved to Chattanooga. He retired in 1950 and died in 1957.

Dr. Hughes was recognized as one of Chattanooga's leading diagnosticians. Because of his humanitarianism and his outstanding achievements in medicine, he is a member of Washington's Hall of Fame. He is also listed in the American Encyclopedia as one of the nation's great men.

(We are sorry to inform you that since this article was written Mrs. Hughes passed away during the robbery of her home by masked thieves, who suffocated her.)
